THE NEW TESTAMENT: A 30 AD PARENT'S GUIDE

PARENTS! Your rights are under attack! A new “teacher” called Jesus and his followers are attempting to hijack your kids' minds and introduce them to a radical left agenda called “The New Testament”. They want your children to “help” dangerous people like the poor and the lepers. “Again I say unto you, It is easier for a camel to go through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the kingdom of God.” These are real words straight from the mouth of this lunatic!!! What’s he going to do next? Frolic with prostitutes and tax collectors like some long haired hippy? Tell our children to study at the temple and “follow their passions” instead of joining the Roman army and settling down with a family? KISS OTHER MEN??? Jesus claims he wants to spread love, but don’t be fooled by his woke lies, he really just wants to expose your children to heathenry, sodomy, and worst of all, A KIND AND LOVING GOD! How could a child possibly understand that forgiveness is not real? We as parents have rights, and we should be able to sit our kids down and tell them that God’s Wrath is real and they should live in eternal guilt when we feel the time is right!!! Act now, because it is all but guaranteed that your little ones will be exposed to these people and their dangerous messages. One worried parent stated “My five year old son came home yesterday confused and distressed because a follower of Jesus told him that God loves him! What are these “teachers” telling our kids? No child should have access to this filth.” WHEN WILL THIS INSANITY STOP??? WHEN ALL OUR KIDS ARE CATHOLICS??!?

WORRIED? HERE'S WHAT YOU CAN DO

Protect your kids! Take action! Contact Pontius Pilate and let him know that you’re not scared of the woke mob. DEMAND he take action and crucify this RADICAL!!! Teach our kids to kill those they disagree with!

Hey guys, it's your friend The Devil here to talk about the latest hot hellish goss of all things sin and sacrilege. Recently, I've decided I need to revamp some of my many layers of hell to keep up with the times and make sure I create the best possible worst experience for all of my subjects, including Subway enjoyers, malpracticing plague doctors, and my besties: Joseph Smith and George Washington. To make my souls feel more at home (and traumatize them by tainting their safe spaces with torture because this is Hell), I want to take inspiration from church architecture on Earth. In this blog post, I'm going to share with you some of my thoughts on the architecture of each church, so settle in for a good read, my dear, worthless spider-vessels. I hope you'll fucking hate it!

1. I'm Going to vom

First on the list is this little country church from God knows where (I bet he legit doesn't know, it's so fucking ugly there's no way he or his little son approved of this). The plain white slats on every facade make me want to grind my crooked, yellow teeth down to the gums so that I can replace them with those straight, pearly slats. The random slopes of every piece of roof looks messy; the form is practically melting to the ground with ugliness. The cross isn't big enough to dissuade me from entering this building and possessing the golden little girl everyone loves and making her kill the priest, so I guess it's ok in that respect. Otherwise, fucking disgusting and awful and ugly, it'll fit right in.

2. Party Time!

Second on this list doesn't necessarily relate to the architecture of churches, but interior design is just as important. I have never felt the excruciating burning of my flesh as strongly as I do just thinking about this stage. Combining brown, corporate carpeting with bright magenta and orange spotlights is the worst combination I've ever seen. I want it now so badly please oh my god please fuck. Is it party time or worship time, people will never know! My most traditional religious sinners will feel right at home in this aesthetically eyeball-burning environment.

3. A Work of Art

If I weren't Lucifer himself, I would probably be a little Jesus worshiper at this church.

The lighting, the wide open space, and simple complexity of its form combine to create a lovely chapel that I would sit in as I watched the rapture happen. I wouldn't be a perfect Jesus worshiper, but I would try my fucking hardest in this work of art.

Whoever designed this had that artist in them. And you know who else has that artist in them? George W. Bush. And he has a cozy little spot in my sex dungeon, ready for when he arrives. Yay!

4. Lifetime Dupe

5. Frank Lloyd Wrong

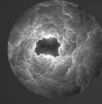

Last on the list is this abomination of a church designed by my 52nd favorite soul, Frank Lloyd Wright. I wonder which of my little demons went rogue and put this awful idea in his head: they should get a promotion. This is possibly the ugliest church that's ever graced God's green earth. From the form of its weird, spiky, iron nipple roof to the cool ranch Doritos tower beside it, this church really shows its patrons that worshipping God isn't really that cool of an idea. Were I to take inspiration from Wrong's design and create a hellscape for my most Jesus-loving sinners, I might have to consider one of his grossest works.

Let's Talk About Stigmata

As stigmata becomes the next trendy catholic aesthetic, I have noticed significant errors in the horny tumblr posts about My Chemical Romance fanfiction. When you think of stigmata, you likely picture holes straight through the center of the palms - it's classic christian imagery. Perhaps it reminds you of the easter season, when your childhood babysitter would demonstrate the crucifixion of Jesus with a railroad spike. Regardless, it's always about the palms. Well I'm here to set the record straight. First of all, "stigmata" includes the feet and the injuries on the head caused by the crown of thorns, second, and most importantly, THE STIGMATA IS IN THE WRISTS NOT THE PALMS.

I guess I understand why the only stigmata being sexualized are the fantastical holes straight through the palms. Wrists are full of weird bones and a hole there would destroy joint function, which is decidedly not sexy. The scars from a crown of thorns are pretty insignificant compared to extra holes added to the body. But, while feet aren't exactly my thing, I can't understand why no one with a foot fetish is going hog wild for the stigmata of the feet. Am I meant to believe there is no overlap between kinky ex catholics and foot fetishists? Jesus literally had a foot thing in the Bible, why aren't any fanfiction authors writing priest au fanfiction about this?

This is the sanitization of the gore within Catholic imagery. I agree with all the gurlies posting content under #stigmata on tumblr, stigmata are sexy and cool, but this should not distract us from the practicalities of crucifixion. If stakes had been driven through the hands, Jesus' body weight would have caused him to fall from the cross and the stakes to tear through his hands. His feet had to be skewered so his body weight could rest on them - causing him to eventually die from positional asphyxiation. I am largely indifferent about the inclusion of the damage caused by the crown of thorns. In the end, do what you must to lust after Jesus or pathetic Catholic men, but don't forget the brutal truths I had to learn in my church's youth program.

I broke ALL TEN commandments and you'll never believe what happened next!!

1. You shall have no other God's before me
I started worshiping our lord and savior Jack Black. I was not smited so I have to assume that Jack Black is lord

2. Thou shalt not make unto thee any graven images.
I carved many bars of soap into Jack Black shrines, I must assume that he is in fact lord.

3. Thou shalt not take the name of the Lord thy God in vain.
OH MY GOD WHAT THE FUCK. done

4. Remember the Sabbath day and keep it Holy.
Sundays are my day to get all the housework done, so I have been ignoring this one for decades. Nothing happens.

5. Honor your father and mother.
Okay I will respect this one, my parents rock.

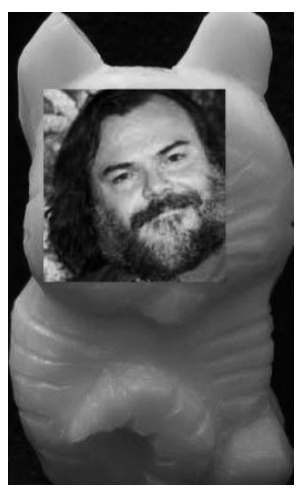

6. Thou shalt not kill.
I ended up in prison

7. Thou shalt not commit adultery.
No one wants to have sex with a Jack Black worshiper who is in prison for murder. I should have reordered the commandments from least to most extreme...

8. Thou shalt not steal.
That is not one of the reasons I am in prison but I did steal all the tiny bars of soap that I carved for my Jack Black shrine from hotels and nothing happened.

9. Thou shalt not bear false witness.
I am already in prison, maybe lying about these tasks would have prevented me from being here. Clearly I should be bearing false witness more.

10. You shall not covet.
Nah I want what's not mine. I want the sweet embrace of Jack Black and to not be in prison for murder.

Wow, this reminds me of that time I used the Lord's name in vain.

Bunjesus Jumping & Christgliding!

Hey, my Brothers and Sisters in Christ!

Do you want to soar in the sky like the Holy Spirit?

Do you want to bask in the glory of Christ while doing so?

Do you want to possibly meet God while doing so?

Well now you can!

Introducing Bungjesus Jumping and Christgliding! It's just like Bungee Jumping and Hanggliding, but you're crucified!

For just 6 easy payments of $111, you can fly like an angel over many holy areas and see them from the eyes of the Holy Spirit, such as Jerusalem, the Vatican, the Stanford University Catholic Church, and more!!! Or you can fall off of a wide variety of churches! Have fun! ;)

NOTE: We are not responsible if you really do meet God (Or the devil) while performing these activities.

Divine Inspiration

To God,

I am in dire need of some divine inspiration. I've been sitting at my desk literally smashing my head against the wall for hours. I don't think I'm getting my security deposit back. My parents are gonna be mad about that because they paid for it and they don't think I have a "real job." I've been trying to tell them that I'm making $40 a month on Patreon subscriptions now plus I do commissions, but they just don't understand. Anyway, that's kind of why I'm writing this. See, I'm an artist. I draw fanart of anime characters, and I'm pretty good. I have 8 subscribers on Patreon and like 120 Twitter followers. I've started doing commissions because I've only eaten raw potatoes for the past three months and some of my teeth are getting loose, and so far they've gone pretty well. The problem is, I did one for a furry, and now I keep getting more furry art requests. I don't have anything against them, it's just not really my thing. I've tried my best, and I think I've done a pretty good job so far. Even though it's not for me, I get how to make a fox or a wolf sexy. But this new guy wants a rat, and I don't know what to do. I've watched Flushed Away and Ratatouille for inspiration, but I just can't figure out how to draw a rat sexy. Like is it supposed to have long whiskers? Big teeth or small teeth? How long should the tail be? Rats are so gross, I just can't figure out how to do this. That's why I need some divine inspiration. I'm never gonna keep my subscribers if people start saying that my commissions are bad. I don't want to have to go back to eating only potatoes, and I definitely don't want to get a job. Please, God or an angel or whoever is reading this, I know you probably get a lot of prayers, but I only get my $20 after I send in the artwork, and I need to make sure he likes it. Please, if I don't have some fruit soon my teeth are gonna start falling out.

Sincerely,
Penny Les
